ROOSEVELT FAVORS SELECTIVE TRAINING BILL

Essential to Adequate Defense

Democratic Tax Leaders Agree Excess Profit Tax Should Be Enacted Now

Lessons of War Nations Without Trained Man Power in Bad Way Today

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today he was "distinctly in favor of a selective service training bill and I consider it essential to adequate national defense."

Specifically permitting direct quotation, the President made the statement at a press conference after a reporter asked for his opinions. The reporter said a report was going around that the Chief Executive was "not so hot about conscription."

The President replied that it all depended on which paper you read. He then entered upon a lengthy review of the conscription question.

He also announced that he and Democratic tax leaders in Congress were agreed that an excess profits tax should be enacted without delay.

All manufacturers working on defense orders know that such legislation was going to be passed, he said, and were proceeding to assemble materials even though contracts have not yet been signed.

Final Action in Month

The President said that Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the Senate finance committee hoped to get final action in a month. He added that the legislation would clear up the important question of amortization which the manufacturers were interested in.

In concluding his long discussion of conscription the President permitted this direct question:

"I am distinctly in favor of a selective service training bill and I consider it essential to adequate national defense."

Declaring he had abandoned long ago the practice of sending up what he called ready-made bills to be rushed through Congress, Mr. Roosevelt added that he was leaving to the Legislature the age brackets for registrants under a conscription training law.

The simple fact is, he continued, that the lessons of the present war show defense means total defense. Under modern circumstances, he continued, that means a lot of new machinery and equipment which the nation hasn't got but is beginning to get.

He said that William S. Knudsen, in charge of defense plans for industrial production, told him the other day that a lot of companies were proceeding with $1,800,000,000 worth of orders for all kinds of materials and machinery without waiting for actual contracts.

The United States, he declared, had learned from the present war that nations without trained man power were in a bad way.

Points To World War

The way the Chief Executive put it was this:

In 1917 this country built an army of 4,000,000 men but they did not go into action until 13½ months later.

Meanwhile no shot was fired against this country over here, but that was just of sheer luck and would never happen again in this nation's history.

In other words, the United States now must have a trained army before hand, consisting of fighting men, supply men, mechanics and factory workers. All would require training, he said, whether they were in uniform or not.

By training men in advance for defense, a nation saves human lives. An untrained army and navy mean casualties much higher than those in the case of trained man power, and fewer cases of disease result from having a trained organization.

A nation can not get a sufficiently trained force of military and non-military men by just passing an act of Congress when war breaks out or by having a purely voluntary system. Therefore compulsory conscription is the most efficient way to handle the problem.

The President continued to expound his views along this line:

Good to Know Capacities

It does not make a lot of difference what ages are put in the law, but it would be a good thing to know capacities of the various groups. All registrants would not be given rifles. For instance, the President knew a man, an expert mechanic, who was volunteering because he wanted to go to the front with a rifle, but this man should not be permitted to go to

Reckless Driving Charges Are Made After Two Crashes

New York City Woman Is Injured in Collision; Milk Truck Is Turned Over

Three arrests were made on charges of reckless driving as the result of automobile crashes in Kingston early this morning in which one young woman was injured so severely that she was removed to the Kingston Hospital where an X-ray is to be taken to determine the extent of her injuries.

The woman injured is Miss Estelle Lozinski, 24, of New York city, who suffered a head injury when hurled against the windshield of the auto in which she was riding on Broadway at 3 o'clock this morning. Miss Lozinski is also suffering from shock.

According to the police report Miss Lozinski was riding in an automobile being operated by Miss Catherine Irwin of New York city. Miss Irwin also had in the car with her Mrs. Anna Irwin, William Irwin and Miss Mattie Lozinski, all of New York city.

The Irwins have a summer bungalow at Rosendale and the Lozinskis were guests of the Irwins.

Miss Irwin was driving up Broadway this morning and intended to make a left turn into Greenkell avenue, which is prohibited by traffic ordinance. She saw the sign and stopped her car and while her car was halted it was struck, according to the police, by a car driven by D. Clinton Dominick, 22, of 345 Grand street, Newburgh.

Miss Lozinski, who was injured, was sitting alongside the driver of the car, which was struck on the right side. The car door was crushed in and she was thrown headlong against the windshield, which was shattered. Fortunately the windshield was of safety glass and while it was shattered it did not break.

Officers Harnen and Murphy in one of the radio cars overtook Dominick further along on Broadway and placed him under arrest on a charge of speeding.

Dominick was also placed under arrest by Miss Irwin who charged him with reckless driving.

Later in police headquarters Dominick furnished bail in the sum of $200, a hundred dollars on each charge, for his appearance in police court.

Dominick told the police that he was a member of the National Guard and was planning to leave for three weeks to take part in the war maneuvers at Pine Camp.

Truck Turned Over

Borid Yucht, 24, of 552 Riverside Drive, New York city, and Harold A. Flowers, 18, of 61 Downs street, placed each other under arrest on charges of reckless driving, following a collision at 2:48 o'clock this morning at the intersection of the milk truck driven by Flowers and the auto operated by Yucht.

No personal injuries were reported but both machines were damaged.

The milk truck was owned by Eugene Vogel of South Wall street. As a result of the impact between the two machines the milk truck was turned over, and the cargo of milk was spilled on the street.

Judge Cahill was informed by Mr. Vogel that the truck at the time of the crash had $75 worth of milk in it, and that the total damage was $140.

Flynn Plans New Setup for National Democratic Body

Will Discuss Campaign Details With Farley; Central Office Will Be in New York

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Reorganization of the administrative set-up of the Democratic national committee was expected in political circles today to be started when Edward J. Flynn takes over the party chairmanship August 17. Appointment of Flynn, New York national committeeman and Bronx Democratic leader, to direct the third-term campaign of President Roosevelt was announced yesterday after a White House conference.

Flynn hustled back to New York, where on Monday he will begin conferences with James A. Farley, retiring national chairman, regarding the kind of campaign to be waged, with particular reference to pivotal New York state. Central headquarters will be maintained in New York city.

Although Flynn would not go beyond his formal statement predicting victory for the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket, there were reports that L. W. Robert, national committee secretary, and Oliver A. Quayle, treasurer, might be replaced. They were reelected after the Chicago convention.

Farley, who is giving up the chairmanship to head the New York Yankees and perhaps take another private job on the side, would not say when he intended to resign as postmaster general. The cabinet place frequently goes to the national committee head, but there was no indication that Flynn would get it, too.

Always on Hand

As state chairman for New York, a post which he will retain, Farley will be on hand to consult with Flynn even after he quits the national political scene.

The new chairman long has been a supporter of the President. Their close association dates back to the days when Mr. Roosevelt was governor of New York and he named Flynn secretary of state. With Farley, the three of them bucked Tammany Hall in local and state political fights.

Senator Byrnes of South Carolina, who refused to be considered for the chairmanship because he suffers from hay fever in the campaign months, praised Flynn's appointment.

"As national committeeman of New York," Byrnes said, "he has established a wide acquaintance throughout the country, and with his knowledge of the problems of the various sections of the country I feel he will make a most efficient national chairman."

Frank C. Walker, New York business man, who also was said to have turned down the job, was being talked of as a possible new treasurer of the committee, a post he held in 1933.

Flynn headed a national committee subcommittee of five members who discussed the chairmanship with the President, his running mate, Secretary Wallace, and Farley.

Aliens Discharged From Panama Jobs

Will Report 81 Workers Called 'Foreign Agents'

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Eighty-one persons described by Secretary Stimson as "foreign agents" awaited deportation from the Panama Canal Zone today after a cleanup of aliens in the vital defense areas.

The secretary of war announced the detention of the 81 yesterday when he disclosed that all aliens, other than Panamanians, had been discharged from United States government or military positions in the Canal Zone.

Only American soldiers or American engineers, he added, are employed on fire control equipment in the canal zone.

Leopoldo Arosemena, Panama's minister of interior and acting foreign minister, said at Panama that the 81 persons held for deportation were mostly European "refugees."

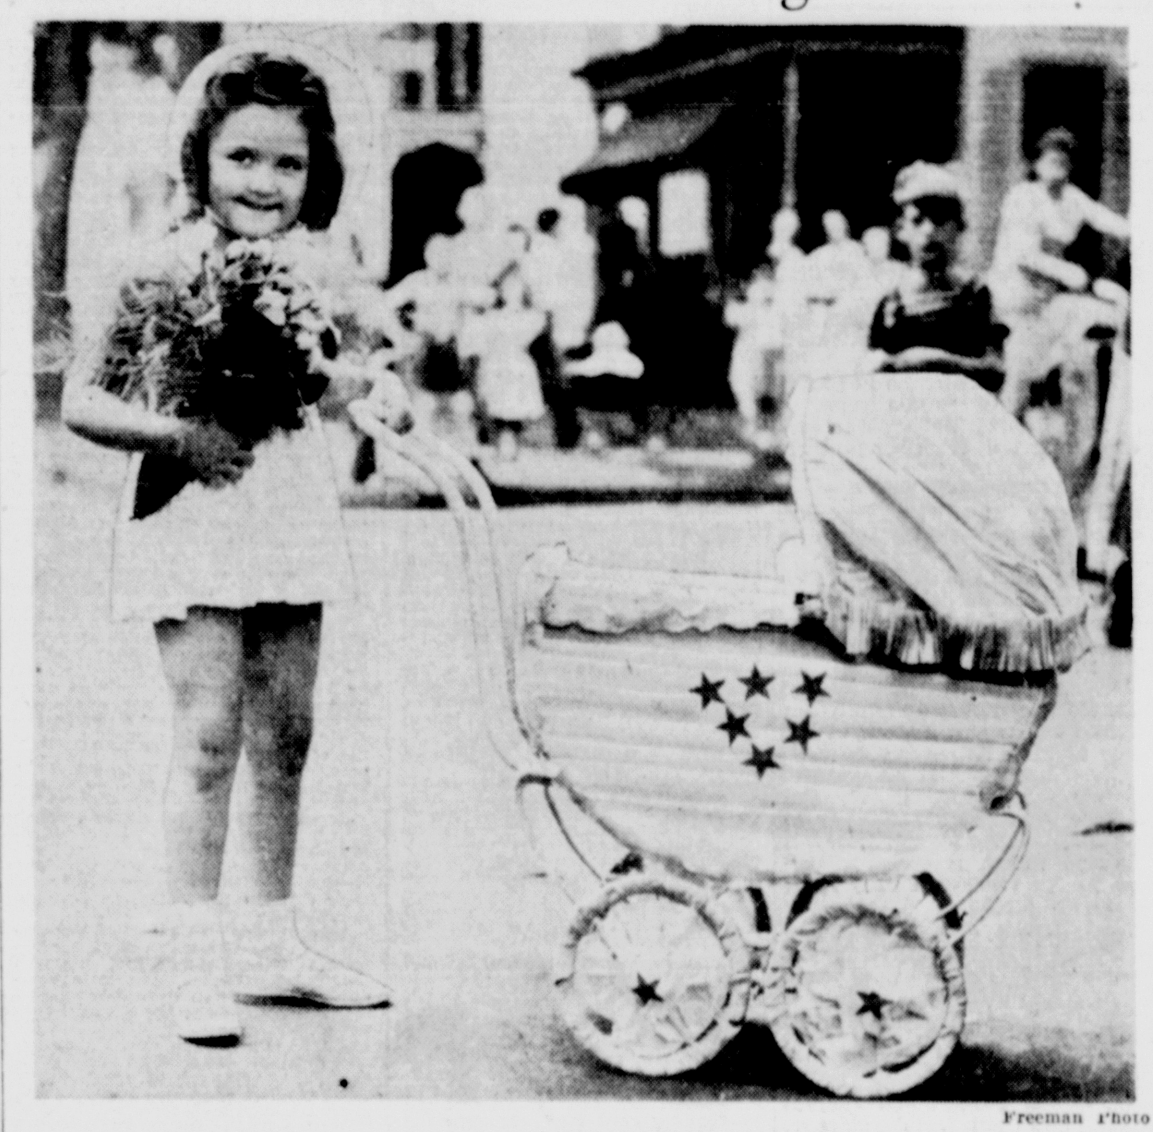

They were picked up and turned over to canal zone officials, he said, when it was found that their papers were not in order. Their point of entry, he explained, had been through the Canal Zone.

United States army intelligence officers at Panama disclaimed knowledge that 81 foreign agents were being held. Refugees at the immigration quarantine station in Balboa, they said, formed the only group of foreigners approaching that figure.

Steamship lines responsible for leaving the refugees in the Canal Zone, informed sources said, may be required to return them, but difficulty was expected because

He said "if necessary" he would ask the 1941 Legislature to grant official powers to the new body.

The governor will serve as chairman. Other members include: Charles E. Wilson, General Electric Company president; Paul Schoellkopf, Niagara-Hudson Company president; F. E. Williamson, New York Central Railroad president; John M. Hancock of Lehman Brothers, New York city.

Downtown Youngsters Get Highest Number Points Ever Made in Meet; About 700 Attend

With an approximate crowd of 700 lining the thoroughfares between Elmendorf street and Bruyn avenue, the fifth annual "Carnival on Wheels" was held by the department of recreation Thursday afternoon. One of the smallest parks in the city, Cornell, came through with 70½ points, a record high over a span of five years.

Two sets of bleachers were erected by city employees to seat the large turnout. From about 12:30 to starting time at 1:30 o'clock participants and spectators arrived at the scene. The winners of the event, Cornell Park, made the trip to Elmendorf street in a large truck, bringing along the various bicycles, scooters and push-mobies.

Cornell Park, with the boys and girls dividing the outstanding work, amazed the onlookers with its performances in taking the fifth annual meet with the highest number of points ever registered at the carnival since its beginning.

Following Cornell's first place team came Block Park in second with a total of 38½ points, followed by Loughran in third with 28. Barmann, Hasbrouck, High School, Forsyth and Hutton made up the rest of the eight parks on the program.

The summary is as follows:

Boys and Girls Bicycle Parade (best decorated bicycle)—Won by D. Murry of Cornell; 2—J. Christian, Hasbrouck; 3—E. Rio, Barmann; 4—P. Zakeski, Hasbrouck; 5—S. Mones, Hasbrouck.

Narcotics Scarce

War, Enforcement Makes Dope Addicts Desperate

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—A restricted narcotic supply because of war and intensified law enforcement is driving drug addicts to desperate thievery.

"They are stealing morphine, forging physicians' prescriptions, going to any limits to get dope," Frank Smith, director of New York state's narcotics bureau, said today in an interview.

War has drastically curtailed shipments from the Orient. Law enforcement is sterner each day—New York's four-man narcotics bureau cooperating with local and state police arrested more than 2,500 distributors last year.

Consequently, the retail price of smoking opium has jumped from about $100 a pound to $350 to $400 the past year. Heroin and morphine prices soared.

Cost of Living Higher

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins reported today that the cost of living for wage earners in large cities was 0.7 per cent higher on June 15 than on March 15. Food prices were up 2.8 per cent and rent 0.1 per cent.

There were slight declines in clothing, fuel, ice and house furnishings. The cost level in mid-June was 1.9 per cent above a year earlier; 10.7 above June, 1933, and 18.1 below December, 1929.

Red Cross Supplies

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs R. A. Butler disclosed today that Red Cross and medical supplies could still be sent to China over the Burma road despite the recent British agreement with Japan to ban movement of war materials over the highway for three months. In a written answer to a member of Parliament Butler said Red Cross and medical supplies were not included in the deal.

Royal Air Force Wrecks Hamburg British Declare

Labor Dispute Is Settled by Hiring Union Workmen

Feldman and Robinson Come to Terms With Trades Council on Employing Men

The labor dispute between the Ulster County Trades Council and Feldman and Robinson who are making alterations to the former Perry market on Broadway near West Chester street has been settled. The dispute was the object of the picketing at the Brown Servicenter building on Broadway at Pine Grove avenue a few days ago.

Adjustment of the dispute, it was announced by William A. Kaercher of the firm of Flanagan & Kaercher, who appeared for the Trades Council, has been reached by an agreement to employ union workmen on the construction job on Broadway. This includes both carpenters and masons.

The agreement to unionize the job settles the dispute and also includes an agreement to unionize the job of erecting tanks and other work at the Sleightsburgh plant of the Ulster Fuel Oil and Power Company, which is controlled by Feldman and Robinson, distributors of Richfield products.

Picketing was commenced at the Servicenter building on Broadway and Pine Grove avenue when pickets appeared carrying signs protesting against non-union labor being employed by Feldman & Robinson. Harris Brown, operator of the Servicenter which occupies a portion of the building, secured an injunction from County Judge Andrew J. Cook restraining the union officials from picketing the property on the grounds the Servicenter or Mr. Brown was in no way connected with the dispute although Brown handled Richfield products. A hearing was later held at Albany before the Supreme Court on a permanent injunction. That matter was still pending when the agreement was reached.

At the hearing Mr. Kaercher appeared for the Ulster County Trades Council and Cashin & Ewig for Brown's Servicenter. Since the injunction no picketing had been done at the Servicenter, it was the contention of the Council that the picketing had been directed at the owners of the property, Feldman & Robinson, who distribute Richfield products and not toward Brown who retailed the products.

Settlement of the labor dispute between the Council and Feldman and Robinson ends the picketing, Mr. Kaercher said.

Germany Says Its Raiders Struck Devitalizing Blows Against the English

Leaflet Raids Pamphlets Contained Extracts From Hitler's July 19 Speech

By The Associated Press

Virtual destruction of the great German seaport of Hamburg by Royal Air Force bombers was claimed by an authoritative British source today while Germany countered with the statement that its own raiders had struck new devitalizing blows against Britain's merchant fleet.

The British source, summing up the work of the R. A. F. in the past three months, said Hamburg was only one of the military objectives attacked in nightly raids. Thousands of bombs have been rained on the Port of Bremen with its shipbuilding yards, docks and aircraft factory, the same source said, and added that more than 100 German cities and towns where military objectives are situated had been attacked.

Official Germany has said little about the R. A. F. raids, insisting that they were against non-military points.

Today's Nazi claim was that the air force has sunk a large merchantman, a tanker and a mine patrol boat yesterday, and that a submarine, returning to its base, had reported sinking 72,000 tons of shipping in an unspecified space of time.

The German air force, as usual, continued its attacks on the British isles, dropping bombs on Scotland and Wales and varying the daily custom in England by dropping Hitler "peace or destruction" pamphlets.

In the Mediterranean area the R. A. F. claimed destruction of a large ammunition dump near Bardia, Libya, and other less spectacular raids on African posts held by the Italians.

Italy reported her air force had attacked a British naval squadron south of Formentera, in the Balearic islands, and said a battleship had been set on fire and several other warships had been hit.

The Italian high command likewise said the British submarine Oswald had been torpedoed and sunk and 52 of its crew of 55 taken prisoners.

Leaflet Raid on Britain

Four-page leaflets, captioned "a last appeal to reason by Adolf Hitler," fluttered down in the pre-dawn darkness in southern and southwestern parts of England. Air raid wardens and constables, hustling about with torches, gathered up the papers by the thousands.

The pamphlets contained extracts from Hitler's July 19 Speech extending a peace feeler, and suggested that the British might not have been told what he said. Actually his speech was widely published in England.

Bombs dropped by raiders were reported by the British government to have caused slight damage and "few" casualties.

Skeptical of German statements that invasion may be held off indefinitely in favor of bomb attacks and air and undersea blockade, British observers pointed out that the almanac indicates next Monday to Friday morning as the time high tides would favor attack. After that the favorable mornings would be from September 2 to 7.

The Supreme Soviet was called to a second day session to act on admission to the Soviet union of territories which extend the Soviet frontier from ice-free ports in the Baltic to the Danube river. Up for admission are Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, and the former Rumanian territory of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina.

Rumania's cessions to Soviet Russia intensified Hungarian claims for Transylvania, which Hungary lost to Rumania after the World War, and Bulgarian claims on southern Dobruja.

Now, reports from Bucharest said, the Rumanian crown council has decided to open negotiations next week for settlement of those claims.

Many From Ulster Rate as Marksmen

Ten Kingston Young Men and Others in County Pass C.M.T.C. Test

Plattsburg Barracks, August 1.—The foot soldier is still the main reliance of the modern army, and accurate rifle shooting is his main asset.

Instructed in the use of this weapon by reserve officers of the United States Army, the young men attending the Citizens Military Training Camp here have made an exceptional showing during the marksmanship tests just completed.

Final results show that 92 per cent of the youths scored a total of 53 out of a possible 75, thus qualifying as C. M. T. C. marksmen and earning a marksmanship badge. This is believed to be a record since these camps were established 19 years ago.

The boys were required to fire ten shots prone and five kneeling with regulation Springfield rifles at targets 200 yards away. A bull's eye counted five points.

Among those from Ulster county who qualified as marksmen were: East Kingston, Louis LaRocca, Highland, Harold M. Vanderburgh, Richard W. Kent, Kingston, Aaron Adin, Francis X. Burke, Hubert Hoderath, Robert W. Hughes, John K. Lang, Joseph T. Saulpaugh, Harry Skeritt, Harry E. Stahl, Thomas W. Tomshaw, Harold V. Watrous.

Riflemen: Victor U. Trevis, Saint Regis, Robert S. Palmer, Paul H. Peltier, Saugerties, Harold C. Steiger, Tilton, Earl V. Moss.

Thirty large panels exhibiting local chamber of commerce publicity and promotional material have been prepared by the National Chamber of Commercial Organization Secretaries at Northwestern University next month.

Only two of the seven Democratic presidential nominees of this century—Wilson and Roosevelt—were elected.

Wiggle Your Toes

If women would take off their shoes and stockings and wiggle their toes, they would become more efficient, according to Dr. Thomas T. Boyd of the Massachusetts Academy of Podiatry.

"Wiggle your toes, girls, if you want to increase your efficiency," the doctor said.

"There is no special way to do it, just wiggle. It does for the toes what a deep breath of invigorating air does for the lungs."

Dr. Boyd also pleaded with women to wear lower heels to avoid "serious stomach ailments and looking like leaning towers of Pisa."

The next presidential term begins Jan. 20, 1941.

Wiggle Your Toes

If women would take off their shoes and stockings and wiggle their toes, they would become more efficient, according to Dr. Thomas T. Boyd of the Massachusetts Academy of Podiatry.

"Wiggle your toes, girls, if you want to increase your efficiency," the doctor said.

"There is no special way to do it, just wiggle. It does for the toes what a deep breath of invigorating air does for the lungs."

Dr. Boyd also pleaded with women to wear lower heels to avoid "serious stomach ailments and looking like leaning towers of Pisa."

The next presidential term begins Jan. 20, 1941.

Loose Initiation Will Be Held Sunday, August 4

On Sunday, August 4, Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose, will hold an initiation ceremony for a class of 25 candidates at the new Moose home.

This ceremony will be conferred in honor of the secretary of the lodge, Anthony Erena, whose birthday also falls on this date. This degree has been exemplified during the month of June and to be put on for the second time establishes a new milestone in the annals of the local lodge, but due to the vast expansion program including various activities, the lodge is steadily growing in strength.

Invitations have been mailed to the Moose lodges in the Hudson Valley and from all indications a large attendance of Moose members and their friends will be present to pay their respects to the man who has contributed much of his time and energy to the advancement of the local lodge. Following the initiation, an enjoyable program of varied entertainment and dancing has been arranged for the public. A buffet supper will be served late in the afternoon.

Many women prominent in the Moose Ladies' Auxiliary will be present to give the members of the local lodge some interesting ideas on the formation of a Ladies' Auxiliary for Kingston lodge.

Religious Movie

A religious motion picture, entitled "A Wayward Boy" will be shown this evening at Emanuel Missionary Baptist Church at 8:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Windsors En Route To Bahamas Today

Guarded Against Possible Nazi Naval Coup

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were en route to the Bahamas by way of New York today, possibly under long-range protection of British warships guarding against any attempted German or Italian naval coup.

This is what "Mr. and Mrs. Windsor," as they appeared on the passenger list, took with them when the American export liner Excelsior sailed late yesterday afternoon:

Three dogs;
52 pieces of luggage;
An old portable sewing machine;
A set of golf clubs;
Four basket-boxes of old Madeira and port wine;
One 1940-model limousine and trailer.

The ship's sailing was delayed 40 minutes by the duke, who was driven to the pier by his host of the past month, the Portuguese banker Ricardo Espirito Santo. They did not arrive until 6:20 p. m., 20 minutes after scheduled sailing time, whereas most of the other passengers had been aboard since 2:30 and the duchess had embarked at 5:25 p. m.

The Windsors have a verandah suite with a private desk designed for use as a gun turret in case American entry into war should convert the Excelsior into an armed auxiliary cruiser.

Occupying cabins off the verandah, which will serve as a private dining room, were the five other members of the party—Capt. George Wood, the duke's aide de camp, and Mrs. Wood, detective Fletcher of Scotland Yard, and the duchess' two maids.

Wheelock Executed

Ossining, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Norman Wheelock, 27-year-old former Prattburgh linemen, was executed in the electric chair of Sing Sing prison last night for the rape murder of Evelyn Reed, 13, Penn Yan Junior High School student.

Units of 4 U. S. Armies Will Move On "Front Lines"

Mobilizing of Forces For Most Extensive Field Exercises Since the World War

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—At peacetime peaks in training and equipment, units of four United States armies were moving by rail and road today toward imaginary front lines on theoretical battlefields.

Mobilizing for the most extensive field exercises since the World War, 301,000 regular army, national guard and reserve troops prepared to give a preview of mass maneuvers which, if Congress approves, may become a regular practice.

Extending its former policy of holding maneuvers in only one army area each year, the war department has ordered exercises in all four areas this summer. They will be a prelude to possible mobilization of all or part of the national guard for a full year.

The length of the maneuvers has been extended from 14 days to 21 days, on top of an extra week's field training which was given to the national guard during the last year.

Although there are still bothersome shortages in modern weapons and supplies, the war department said that the troops would go into mock action with more complete peacetime equipment than ever. All regular army troops and many guardsmen will carry new semi-automatic rifles. New anti-tank guns will be employed. An increased number of motor transport units will be used.

Markedly absent, however, will be the thundering tanks of the armored forces. Two divisions in process of organization will continue to train as units rather than be scattered among the four armies.

Trucks and cars will be used in the maneuvers. Planes also will be limited, to avoid hampering the air corps expansion.

More than three-quarters of the mobile ground forces will be concentrated in the four army areas, giving a practical test of troop-movement facilities, including 466 special trains, busses, trucks and automobiles.

In Northern New York

Largest of the concentrations already is well underway in northern New York, where 91,000 officers and men of the first army are assembling in the Plattsburgh-Watertown area for maneuvers August 5 to 25.

Numbers of troops and dates of the exercises in those areas are: Second army, 65,000, Sparta, Wis., area, August 11 to 31; third army, 65,000, Sabine River-Alexandria, La., area, August 4 to 24; fourth army, divided between Fort Lewis, Wash., and Camp Ripley, Minn., August 4 to 24.

More than 500,000 regulars, reserves, guardsmen, students and business men have received two weeks to a year of training since July 1, 1939.

The maneuvers will get underway just as the training camps for 75,000 CMTS and ROTC students are being concluded.

In northern New York, New England units will combine with troops from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

New England will send two full National Guard divisions to the "gray" (the 26th (Yankee division) of Massachusetts, and the 43rd division, comprising units from Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine. In addition, the 211th Coast Artillery Regiment (anti aircraft) of Massachusetts, and the 197th anti aircraft regiment of New Hampshire will be formed into a provisional brigade with the 68th Coast Artillery (anti aircraft) Regiment, Regular Army, of Portland, Me., for the maneuvers.

One of the few units to be equipped with the new Garand semi-automatic rifle will be the 181st Infantry, Mass., National Guard, with headquarters in Worcester.

Regular Army troops from New England include the 7th Field Artillery, Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., part of the 26th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass., a squadron of the 3rd Cavalry, Fort Ethan Allen, and numerous smaller units, all part of the First division.

Advance details already have reached Potsdam, headquarters for the New England outfits.

The first train load of Massachusetts troops will leave Boston at 1 a. m. (E. S. T.) Sunday, and the last of 12 special trains will leave Waltham at 6:15 p. m. (E. S. T.) the same day.

New Hampshire's 172nd Field Artillery, 155 MM. Howitzers, will move out Sunday for Fort Ethan Allen, where it will spend the first week on the firing range.

Maine's 152nd Field Artillery will get under way Tuesday and for the first time will make the entire trip by trucks. The Maine 103rd Infantry will leave Monday by train.

Connecticut, Vermont and Rhode Island units will entrain Sunday and Monday.

Andy Hardy Featured With Judy Garland at Broadway

The glamor of modern New York shares honors with Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland and the Hardy family in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Andy Hardy Meets Debutante," latest of the popular series about Judge Hardy and his brood, coming tonight to the Broadway Theatre. Special preview showing also Saturday through Tuesday.

Dozens of the sights that thrill visitors to the nation's greatest city are seen in the picture through the eyes of the Hardy family. The great bridges that have been thrown across the Hudson, the city's mountainous skyline as seen from the Jersey side, with moments of poignant human the stupendous Rockefeller Center development, New York University's Hall of Fame, swank Fifth avenue, a dazzling coming-out party which is typical of Manhattan's Fourth Hundred, the New York Surrogate's Court in which dozens of famous law cases have been fought, all are faithfully shown and make "Andy Hardy Meets Debutante" as good as an actual trip to New York.

The story, one of buoyant and sometimes robust comedy spiced interest and tense drama, over-shadows even the impressive background against which it is played. Mickey Rooney, as the lively Andy Hardy, becomes infatuated at long range with New York's prettiest debutante and his attempts to crash her acquaintance put him through a score of hilarious trials and tribulations.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUGUST 2, 1940.

NATIONS IN EXILE

Americans have grown used to the idea of governments in exile. In London, in Washington, in New York and other places there are skeleton governments of nations which the Germans think they have conquered. "Ghost Governments" they are sometimes called, but that's not so good a name. Most of them are exceedingly alive.

It was known, too, that scattered soldiers here and there had escaped from these invaded countries and were joining forces with the British. But the last report of War Secretary Anthony Eden comes, nevertheless, with a flash of surprise. He says that the reorganization and re-equipment of French, Belgian, Czech, Netherlands, Norwegian and Polish soldiers in Britain is making good progress. They seem to be in England in numbers enough to make their organization and equipment a matter to be taken seriously.

It comes with a slight shock that Ethiopia is still a member in good standing of what is left of The League of Nations, with Haile Selassie its accredited head.

As for the nationals of those countries still living in their own homes, they too are in exile. Their homes and countries, in the sense that made them truly home and native land, have been taken from them. They live but dully now, awaiting repatriation. But they do not live as those who have no hope.

ECONOMIC CAUTION

A reassuring fact about the economic proposals which emerged from the Havana Conference is that they do not attempt too much. The cartel idea, under which all surplus commodities in South America would have been purchased and held for special control, was dropped as its implications became better understood. It might never have succeeded and, at best, it would have been prohibitive in cost.

Instead, different commodities will be dealt with separately and according to the specific problems they present. Loans are planned to make it possible for a producer to turn down an unfavorable barter offer. An inter-American financial and economic advisory committee, with headquarters in Washington, will act as clearing house.

The basic problem remains—natural rivalry under existing producing and marketing systems between the two continents. Wheat and beef and cotton are important agricultural products in each. How can trade conflicts be overcome without injustice to anyone concerned? Will the development of more industries in South America and the wiser use of its rich and scarcely tapped natural resources help?

It is to be hoped that, if we weather the immediate economic storms created by the totalitarian powers, we will then get at the business of solving the trade riddles which were difficult long before the Nazis became nuisances.

PROVING CITIZENSHIP

It was a fine idea, most of us thought, to require alien registration, but now that we have it, many native citizens find that it affects them, too. They have to prove they are not aliens. Registration of all births was not the practice generally in this country a generation ago. It is not required everywhere even today.

The result is that many adults have no birth certificates or proof of citizenship. They are now trying to locate records, family doctors, and so on, to prove that they were born in this country.

Judges of probate courts are beginning to take up the problem. One of them says, "Anyone who can establish his identity and time of birth is entitled to have it recorded now. It was through no fault or negligence of his own that it was not done in the first place."

This judge has worked out a legal form for use of these people. If there is no record, if the family doctor has died, if parents are dead, it is still possible that some older relative or family friend is available to make affidavit as to time and place of birth. It's a good thing to take care of this matter quickly. Such records will be important from now on not only for travelers outside the country but for job-seekers in some kinds of work here.

BASEBALL JEERING

What's the matter with American baseball fans? Or maybe teams? The former used to cheer the latter with gusto on the slightest provocation and reserved their jeers for umpires.

This season, however, hardly a team has escaped the boos and razzberries of the paying guests. A player who makes a mistake gets little sympathy from the grandstand. The yells of derision imply a widespread view that he has let the crowd down.

Perhaps this attitude follows the efforts of club owners and managers in recent years to make the game less of a competitive sport and more of a spectacle with box office appeal. Perhaps the players themselves have become more coldly business-like in their attitude toward the game and their contracts.

Or the public may have changed. The same cynicism and unfair criticism that appear in other realms of life may have broken out in baseball. If this is the case, it's time for a little soul-searching in the U. S. A. We might as well learn that the cynic can be just as big a sap as the sentimentalist. There is a place for plenty of wholesome criticism in the world. But addiction to the habit of fault-finding and sneering can become a vice or a disease.

PARACHUTES FOR FIRES

Parachutists are being trained in goodly numbers in the mountains of the Far West, not to drop bombs on harmless neighbors, but to put out forest fires. The airplane has been used for nearly twenty years in the Forest Service, to scout out fires and to drop tools and supplies to ground crews fighting them. Just lately have men been dropped at the fire fronts where they are most needed. These smoke-jumpers carry explosives and fire-extinguishing chemicals. They also have rations for several days, compass and portable radio. They alight on treetops, letting themselves down by coils of rope.

So many of the developments of modern science have been used for destructive purposes in the past few years, it's somewhat pleasant to see one used by the Forest Service for the saving of our trees.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

DON'T KEEP INFECTED TEETH

If a distinguished physician or dentist were to say, "The one great objective of the life of a dentist should be to save teeth," most of us would be inclined to agree with him. There are no teeth like your own teeth which are just as much a part of you as your heart or hands. They are fitted to your mouth and even if infection be present, the infection can be removed and your teeth saved.

Dr. Earl H. Thomas, Chicago, a physician and dentist, in the Journal of the American Medical Association disagrees with the above quote statement. He says, "If there is one great objective in the life of a dentist, it should be to place the mouth of his patient in a condition of health. All else is secondary. General health and life, when they depend upon such a condition, are more important than all the teeth in the mouth."

I have spoken before of the great number of individuals with abscessed teeth who apparently suffer no ill effects yet others have rheumatism followed by heart disease due to just one infected tooth.

The man with many diseased teeth has had the great advantage of being able to use these teeth for years instead of having them removed and artificial teeth inserted. Dr. Thomas points out that for every one person absorbing infection for many years with no apparent ill effects, many are in their graves prematurely because they allowed this condition to exist. Most physicians and many dentists know of cases where abscessed teeth were the cause of rheumatism, heart disease, high blood pressure, inflammation of the kidneys, peptic ulcer and other ailments. The general lowering of the body's resistance to this steady pouring out of poisons is the cause of many "break-ups" of individuals in their fifties and sixties.

The lesson is plain. While your own teeth are better than artificial teeth, they look better and chew better, they are not worth saving if in the opinion of your physician and dentist they are a menace not only to health but to life itself.

The large number of cases of disease and death following absorption of poisons from infected teeth should make us all willing to get rid of our own teeth if this is advised by physician and dentist.

Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis
Infection from diseased teeth and tonsils is responsible for many cases of rheumatism and arthritis. Many sufferers from these two painful ailments will find Dr. Barton's booklet "Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis," (No. 109) of great help. Send for it today. Enclose ten cents with your request, to cover cost of handling and mailing, and address it to The Bell Library, Post Office Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y., mentioning the Kingston Daily Freeman.

BABSON ON BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Park, Mass., August 2—

Business in the second half of this year should be very active in most lines—maybe the best final half in history. More real jobs, fatter pay envelopes, modestly higher farm income, bigger dividends than in the first half of 1940, or in the final six months of 1939 are assured. There will be no noticeable gain in living costs, but taxes will be the heaviest in a quarter-century. The next few months will be a period of intense industrial activity as our mammoth defense program gets under way.

This defense program will put the "oomph" in industrial boom ahead. If peace comes in Europe before the program gets going full blast, there will be a temporary halt in the upswing. In longer peace is postponed, however, the greater the possibility that business activity will break all previous records some time in 1940 or 1941. Specifically, I estimate that business in the second half will run about 6 per cent above the same period of 1939, and also 6 per cent higher than in the first six months of this year.

Halt To Depression
Readers will recall that in my outlook for the first half of 1940 I predicted a gain of 10 to 15 per cent over the same months of 1939, but a downward trend from the high levels of January first.

This gain was 11.5 per cent and business is 6 per cent under the New Year level. I also said that we would have either a boom or a crash (no halfway course) in the second half of the year. I felt that it was impossible at that time to say which it would be. Now, however, I predict for the balance of this year a real boom in most industries.

Pace-setter in this industrial expansion ahead will be the heavy industries. Steel operations are scheduled to reach a new peak for any six-month period on record. They are entering the second half at close to 90 per cent capacity, the highest mid-summer figure since 1929. Machine shops, metal foundries, airplane factories, shipyards, railway-equipment plants, have huge backlogs of orders. Only a shortage of skilled labor can prevent these industries from breaking all previous records.

Railroad Revival
The next few months may well see the railroads put themselves out of the doldrums for the first time in ten years. Rail traffic is almost sure to reach new highs since the "big depression" set in late 1930 and there will be openings for thousands of figure workers. The railroad revival may be short-lived, however. Electric power plants, textile mills, lumber camps, copper, lead, and iron mines, truck factories, should all get "their cut" of expanding activity.

Home-builders should handle a fourth again as many "jobs" as in the late months of 1939. With factories frantically pushing expansion plans, many industrial contractors should see their business doubled. Building costs are expected to move upward, too, but less than 5 per cent. Real estate values and activity will improve noticeably, especially around shipyards and in other areas where the defense program is concentrated. Rents for factories, offices, and single houses may be a little firmer.

More Real Jobs

Naturally an industrial revival, such as is now in prospect, means more jobs and bigger payrolls. I would not be surprised to see a million jobless people go back to work before snow flies. Wage rates will not be much higher—perhaps only 2 per cent on the average. The increase, furthermore, will be due to the boosting of rates in selected jobs rather than a general mark-up in wages. I do not foresee any serious gain in strikes. The public will not tolerate interference from any source in the defense job.

While things will look brighter for city workers, I do not believe that rural areas will fare so well. Only a moderate gain in prices of certain farm products is in prospect, despite the fourth smallest acreage since 1915. There is a big demand for foodstuffs in Europe, but we can do nothing about it as long as Britain's blockade remains unbroken. Dairy products, eggs, canned goods, cattle, and hogs are among the farm products that ought to sell higher this fall. On the whole, prices may average around 3 per cent above a year ago with total cash farm income (including government checks) registering a little bigger increase.

Small Rise in Living Costs

With the demand for goods sharply increased, with a major war on abroad, with the prospect for higher taxes, many people are worried over a runaway rise in living costs. I think such fears are unfounded for the present. Even though the basic trend of living costs is upward, household bills are expected to move ahead only moderately—not much more than 3 per cent over the current level. The biggest mark-up will come in food. If taxes are figured into the living costs, the average will be somewhat higher because taxes are scheduled to hit the highest point in 25 years some time in the near future.

Heavier payrolls, higher farm income, bigger dividends, plus fixed living costs, should mean brisker retail sales. But trade in the final half of 1939 was good so that the gain over last year's level may average less than 5 per cent for all lines—including groceries, novelties, furniture, automobiles, dry goods. Price-tags will continue their modest mark-ups of early 1940, but need only 3 per cent above corresponding months of 1939. Advertising volume should increase at least 5 per cent over the like period of last year.

Good News for Investors

Not only should wage-earners, business men, and farmers be better off, but investors should see increased income. In fact, the next few months will see the largest dividend payments since 1937 providing Congress is reasonable about taxes. Right now stocks are the cheapest in years based on earnings. World-wide uncertainties, plus excess profits tax threats, have unnecessarily frightened investors. Hence, prices of certain stocks should move ahead as business activity and profits continue to gain. Selection will be the keynote with steels, rails, munitions, machinery, and retail trade shares most favorably situated.

Interest rates will remain at very low levels; but high-grade, long-term bonds should be weaker. Second-grade bonds—particularly rails—are temporarily in a strategic position because (1) the excess profits tax does not hit them and (2) rail traffic promises to reach a new post-1929 peak this fall. Roads serving the industrial area are the best bet. The treasury has a job on its hands to underwrite the mammoth defense program without putting the government bond market "on the spot."

No War Forecast

Foreign trade should hold at current levels, well above a year ago. Loss of our Continental European markets should be offset by increased trade with South America and perhaps with the Far East. Great Britain will continue to be a big customer as long as the war lasts. No one knows what the outcome of the war in Europe will be. My belief is that it will either end very soon or will drag on for a long time. Which ever happens, I will not change my forecast on business for the next six months. This same statement applies regardless of who is elected president in November.

All in all, the remainder of 1940 promises to be the most active final half year in history. Our standard of living, however, will not increase because the defense program will not create more goods for us to divide. Only as more useful goods are produced are there more to divide—and only as there are more goods to divide does the standard of living increase. An entirely new tax program must be enacted. On this tax program largely rests the answer to the question: "Will the unproductive defense program give us some indirect benefit by eliminating certain unemployment, and by cutting down relief, thus cushioning the fall in the standard of living?"

Late 1940 Crucial Period
However, the next few months will seem to be "good times," the closest we have come to prosperity since 1929. They will be crucial months—months in which the handling of our domestic political problems, of our foreign relations, of our defense program, will dictate the future destiny of the United States. If we rise to the challenge—if we show intelligence, courage, self-sacrifice, and industry—we need fear no axis, no country, no man! Otherwise much of the coming prosperity will rest on unsound foundations. "Good times"—built on borrowed money or unproductive labor—always come back to roost!

"TIME EXPOSURE"

By William Henry Jackson

There can never be too many memoirs such as William Henry Jackson's "Time Exposure," a longish book which has cost this reader a good deal of sleep the last day or so. It was sleep well spent.

William Henry Jackson was born April 4, 1843, a couple of miles below the famous Ausable Chasm in the Adirondacks. It seems to have been a good springboard for a career, that chasm. In the 97 years since that day Mr. Jackson has been a great many things, mostly useful, and has seen the world, and particularly this country, more intimately and with greater enjoyment than all but a few men. He has traveled 2,000,000 miles on nearly every type of conveyance known to civilized man. He has ridden horseback from Los Angeles to Omaha; crossed Egypt on a camel; surveyed India from the peak of an elephant; crossed the Great Plains with a bull team; sledged half way across Siberia; helped open the Yellowstone National Park on horseback—so on for nearly a century.

Strangely enough, he has done all these things because as a boy he found himself handy around a

National Defense Program Lags Because Business Is Afraid of Risks

By DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1940)

Washington, Aug. 2—The national defense program is bogging down primarily because business and industry are unable to figure on government contracts without taking risks that seem prohibitive. The question of building new plants—that is, how the depreciation problem shall be handled—is still unsolved.

But more demoralized than anything else is the work of the anti-trust division of the department of justice which is about to launch a most sweeping attack on the entire oil industry. Everybody is agreed that fuel is the most important commodity in a defense program and that every producing and distributing company should be kept at the highest state of efficiency, but at this crucial moment in the industrial life of the nation, the department of justice has made plans to change the entire set-up in an industry which is second only to the railroads in the amount of capital invested.

It is easy enough to prove, of course, that a civil action in the courts will not disturb the supply of gasoline to market right away, but it is not this interference which will cause embarrassment. It is the fact that the major companies are not going to be able to do any planning of new resources and the new facilities when they do not know what capital structure is to be permitted hereafter or how new capital can be raised under a plan that calls for disintegration.

The general report here is that the department intends to ask the courts to separate producers from distributors and pipeline companies from oil producers. The fact that the consumer gets his gasoline cheaper than ever before despite taxes and the fact also that even with integrated companies the average return on net investment for the oil industry is in the neighborhood of only four per cent does not seem to dissuade the department of justice experimentalists from invading perhaps the most efficiently managed and operated industry in the whole country.

Some weeks ago it was asserted that business men would hesitate to do business with the government wherever cooperation between competitors was essential for national defense because the department of justice had filed prosecutions against men, who, under the impetus of government suggestion, had collaborated.

Today the discussion here is how to reassure business that it will not run afoul of the anti-trust laws if it does what such institutions as the Council of National Defense asks them to do. All sorts of plans for the issuance of certificates of immunity have been suggested, but the fact remains that nobody can protect the business men against unwarranted prosecution except Congress by specific resolution.

It would be a simple matter for Congress to pass a resolution suspending the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law during the emergency period or for one year. It happened during the life of the NRA and the country didn't suffer. The Federal Trade Commission could continue to take care of unfair competition.

What seems to be most difficult is what to do with an anti-trust division which has received a $2,000,000 appropriation and seems to feel it must justify that appropriation by wrecking the capital structures of nearly every important major industry. The department has put its claws into the oil, milk and tobacco industries respectively and has plans for some of the others. A policy has been adopted which professes to be in the interest of the consumer, yet nearly every plan for breaking down big companies into smaller units would seem to involve the payment by the consumer of heavy tribute to middle-men and to companies that must arise to take care of services hitherto performed by integrated companies. Carried to its logical conclusion, the policy of this department of justice implies that farmers must not set up selling stands on the roadside, but must stick to production alone and that the producer of a commodity can have no part in marketing it. In the end the consumer pays a higher toll for such inefficiency in distribution.

The New Deal administration has not played fair with industry. For the last seven years it has had ample opportunity to set forth a constructive policy with respect to the anti-trust laws. More than $2,000,000 was spent by the temporary national economic committee to get the facts about the concentration of economic control in America. Recommendations have yet been made and the administration has not put forth its answer or its solution. Now comes a blitzkrieg of criminal and civil prosecutions at a time of international crisis.

Until the New Deal has a plan to handle the anti-trust situation which can be passed upon by Congress, the unwisdom of placing a $2,000,000 appropriation in the hands of the largest staff of lawyers ever assembled for the purpose of baiting business and industry will grow more apparent. At a time when business and industry are being asked to coordinate and plan for the most critical demands of all times, the wrecking crews in the department of justice continue their tactics of harassment. Their purpose is, of course, wholly one of economic partisanship. A calculated attempt by foreign influences, however, to break down the morale and efficiency of the American industrial system could not possibly do a better job than is being done now to disrupt our industrial and economic system under the guise of help to the "consumer." It will not help national defense.

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Johnny, you'd better be looking for your gun.

If you are an able-bodied male, between 21 and 31, without dependents and not working in a key position in some defense industry, you are going to need it.

That is the way the thing looks now, although I have pointed out before that the compulsory military service bill is in for a battle before it clears the Senate and House and is signed by the President. A law in some form it will become, certainly—the only time that any sort of compulsory military service has become operative in the United States during peace time.

The way the bill looks at this writing, about 12,000,000 young men are going to register with their respective draft boards sometime in September. Within a month, 400,000 will be told to report for military training, and although some will have legitimate excuses which will exempt them, the rest can take it and like it . . . or go to jail.

We Need A Big Stick

The reason for the bill—and a majority of the folks back home seem to agree that the reason photographer's "studio." He could operate a camera, retouch negatives, tint the prints for the customers, draw and paint. He has practiced his art from Vermont to California in this country, and through much of his career he was not only a fine photographer, but a pioneer. He seemed to have a gift for being around when new territory was being opened up; for example, he was hired to record photographically the Union Pacific country as that railroad was being born. And when Ferdinand Vandiver Hayden, the government's first geologist, was exploring Wyoming, Jackson was his photographer.

Nobody, least of all Mr. Jackson, has an idea how many thousands of pictures he has taken. But there are 25,000 negatives, the cream of the crop, in the Jackson collection now housed at Dearborn, Mich., most of them absolutely irreplaceable. These are only a little less valuable than the memories in their creator's head. Mr. Jackson's memories begin with the Mexican War, and include practically every important historical event down to the present. In his nineties he is still active—recently he finished painting a set of murals for the Department of the Interior. One of the ugliest words in the English language holds the key to Mr. Jackson's charm, and that of his book. It is "gusto."

is adequate—is primarily that we were caught without a navy adequate to defend both oceans. Not having a navy that can take care of the Atlantic as well as the Pacific (best estimates are that it will be 1947 before we can reach that state of preparedness), the idea is that we must have an army which will scare the pants off anybody.

Opponents of the bill aren't arguing that "don't need the army," they're just claiming that we can get enough men by enlistments. The army people, having been through all that before, say it can't be done, despite recent enlistments of about a thousand a day. They claim, and history backs them up, that shortly this voluntary business will reach the saturation point and they'll have days when nobody comes in and says "I wanna be a soldier."

The bill currently provides for registration of men who are 18 and not yet 64. Only those between 21 and 45 are liable for military service, but the others may have to serve in home defense units. There's a probability that men under 21 and over 45 will not have to register at present.

Of the estimated 12,000,000 men between 21 and 31, one out of 30 will be called to the colors for 12 months' service, around the last of September. The idea is to call 400,000 more men come spring, and 600,000 more in the fall of 1941. The bill states as strongly as Congress can that all should be given their jobs back when they return from duty. In the case of businesses not involved in interstate commerce, all Congress can do is urge.

You Can Sit It Out, Too
Exemptions will include men employed in agriculture or other occupations necessary to national health, safety or interest; men with dependents; and men mentally, physically or morally unfit. Selection will be made by lottery. "Draft dodgers" (men filing false returns) will be subject to five years in the hoosegow or $10,000 fine.

It's called the Burke-Wadsworth bill and the White House hasn't given its official nod to the measure. It may not go through but whether this one does or doesn't, Johnny, you'll get your gun. Unless, of course, a Spitfire should squat in the lap of Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin & Co. (the & Co. being mostly Japan's war party) . . . in which event I guess Johnny, we could just go on about our business.

Commuter Sends Shirt to Railroad for Laundering
 New York, Aug. 2 (P)—"This," quipped the letter of a commuter, "is the tale of a shirt."
 The temperature was high and his spirits low, continued Thomas J. Smyth, deputy clerk of Queens county, so he removed his coat on his train ride to his Jamaica office.
 On arrival, "my newly-laundered white shirt appeared as though it had been worn by the fireman of the locomotive."
 "I am sending the shirt under separate cover and request that when you have laundered it you return it to me."
 "If this cannot be done, I donate the shirt for use as an oil rag in one of your repair shops."

Scenes of Past To Be Presented At Bevier House
 Jochem Wessels, lusty baker of Beverwyck, who became involved in Peter Stuyvesant's courts back in 1652, by painting a pig-sty in his neighbor's yard to ward of competition, will live again when the Valley Vagabonds reproduce the lively scenes on August 10 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Bevier House, home of the Ulster County Historical Society, which is also to be a place for historical items which may be given to the society.
 "The Baker of Beverwyck," now Albany, is to be produced by the Valley Vagabonds from an adaptation of the story as told in Carl Carmer's book, "The Hudson." The Vagabonds are a group of traveling players who are rolling down the Hudson valley this summer with a pack of rollicking plays and entertainments based upon the historical Hudson valley happenings from Albany to Staten Island. Among the plays they present is the legend of Aaron Burr's courtship of a Kingston Dutch maid here in this city at the old Senate House.
 By dramatizing Hudson Valley history as recently set forth in Carl Carmer's book these young folks, all college dramatic students, are making Hudson Valley history. The Vagabonds are 16 young men and women with experience in the theatre, the girls being recent graduates of Vassar College dramatic course. There are other plays waiting to be written, the title of one will be the "Burning of Kingston."
 The troupe can perform anywhere, in a school, hotel or on a village green, and the Ulster County Historical Society has arranged for "The Baker of Beverwyck" to be given on the lawn of the Bevier House out the Marbletown road. In case of inclement weather the play will be staged in the house. The company carries its own props and brilliant costumes. They season their shows with songs which include the old "Hudson River Lullaby," "My Little Cot by the Hudson Shore," and they have a friendly narrator to introduce both songs and players.
 Considerable improvements are necessary to be made to the interior of the house as well as furnishing it. Mrs. Chadbourn, at quite some expense has put a new roof on the splendid old Bevier House and others have contributed toward the upkeep but the proceeds from the play to be given on August 10 will be of much benefit.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?
 By The Master Gardener
 Why?
 Because lawn grasses germinate and grow well in the moist, cool weather of fall, while most weed seeds do not germinate until spring. Thus fall sowing seed enjoys at least two months of growing weather before winter sets in, and an additional two months in early spring before any competition from summer weeds may be expected or before serious deficiencies in moisture occur at the surface of the soil. The grass will start growth in early spring, long before seeding could be done, and will stand the dry weather of the following summer much better than will a spring seeding.
 When?
 From mid-August to mid-September is the best time to renovate lawns in most localities.
 How?
 Rake the lawn vigorously, to scarify the soil and remove all loose dead grass or weeds. This vigorous raking is very important and you will be amazed at the amount of grass and weeds removed. Incidentally, if this part of your work is done properly, your lawn will look like a wreck. If there are any large bare spots, work the soil rather deeply, incorporate some peat moss if the soil is not in good physical condition, and level the area, after raking thoroughly.
 Now you come to an important step—the application of a complete balanced plant food. A liberal supply of plant food is particularly important in the renovation of lawn areas, since a deficiency in the nutrient supply may be the limiting factor in the growth of turf. It is useless to attempt to establish a good turf through reseedling if you neglect feeding.
 Apply the plant food over the entire lawn area, at the rate of 4 lbs. per 100 square feet. You may make the application by hand, or with a plant food spreader. Apply when the grass is dry, so the plant food will not stick to the blades but will roll off and down on the surface of the soil. After application soak the lawn to carry the plant food down into the soil where it will be available to the roots.
 Now you are ready to reseed the lawn area. Two to three pounds of grass seed are required for each 1,000 square feet of area when reseedling old lawns, the quantity

State Farmers Ahead of 1939

Ready Now to Have Farms
Checked With Program

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 2—New York state farmers are notifying their county conservation offices earlier than last year that they are ready to have their farms checked for compliance in the 1940 conservation program. The notice comes from Don J. Wickham, head field officer for the agricultural conservation administration.

This fact indicates that the farmers have also used up their soil-building allowances earlier than last year, Wickham says. The reason, it is reported, has been the time program which has had almost universal application throughout the state. Under the grant-aid plan, farmers were permitted to buy lime and to pay for it later through payments they will earn for carrying out conservation practices on their farms.

New York state now leads the nation in the tonnage of lime applied on farms through the agricultural conservation program, Wickman points out.

Another development on the farm front is that 16 western New York wheat counties will soon be visited by community committee-men who will acquaint wheat growers with the allotment and wheat insurance programs. Each wheat grower will be notified of his insurable yield and the premium rate which applies to his 1941 crop. Every farmer may learn to what extent he may wish to take part in the program.

Vegetable Growers Plan Summer Meet

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 2—New York state vegetable growers will have their annual summer meeting on the grounds of the New York state agricultural experiment station at Geneva, on Wednesday, August 14.

The entire day will be devoted to an inspection and study of experiments on vegetable growing. In addition, visitors will have the chance to hear from the Geneva specialists about the work on spraying, irrigating, placing fertilizer, and other developments.

Lunch will be served on the station grounds, and will include quick-frozen vegetables as well as rhubarb and fruit juices. Commercial concerns will show and explain their equipment and supplies.

The field day will bring vegetable growers from all section of the state. In addition to those interested in market gardening, a large attendance is expected from such specialized groups as the canning crop producers, the tomato green-wrap growers, the sweet corn shippers.

Many growers, it is pointed out, will be interested in inspecting the work and equipment of the seed laboratory where hundreds of samples of vegetables seeds are tested for germination each winter and spring. An opportunity will also be given to inspect the seed control plots where seed is planted and allowed to produce a normal crop. Then, observations show the uniformity of the seed stock.

Playhouse Scores Hit With Comedy

'Fresh Fields' One of Best Comedies Ever Presented by Woodstock Group

Woodstock, Aug. 2 — More laughs per line were scored last night at the Woodstock Playhouse by Robert Elwyn's players than in any other offering of the season as a well balanced cast presented Ivor Novello's smart comedy "Fresh Fields" starring Kitty Kelly. The play continues through to Sunday night.

Few comedies in any amount of Summer theatres could be more generally entertaining than this presentation of a play, which must have been lots of fun for its author.

Constance Clark as the "nouveau riche" Mrs. Pidgeon shared top honors with Kitty Kelly for stellar work in the performance and the latter as Lady Mary Crabbe was a "natural."

Arthur E. Gould-Porter was at his best as Tom Larcomb, rich Australian devoid of social importance. His general cockney attitude and language was attuned to that of Miss Clark and the two made a fine comedy pair.

Charlotte Fitch came through with many of the laughs as Una Pidgeon and in a bit of climactic crying spell showed marked dramatic ability. Elizabeth Malloch also did fine work as Lady Lillian Bedworthy and Bruce Winne, Kingston member of the cast, turned in what was perhaps his best part of the season as Tim Crabbe, young man with a confused social attitude.

Peter Adams was convincing as Ludlow, the butler, Donna Earl was a fine "Lady Strawholme," and Aileen Cramer, who is at her best in comedy roles, did well in a comparatively mild part as Miss Swaine.

The play's theme is not unusual in that it deals with a highly social family faced with the terribly practical problem of eating regularly, but it is brilliant in dialogue and comedy situations. It is a veritable continuity of punch lines and it rides to a most pleasing climax under the impetus of almost constant laughter.

Cornell Park First in 'Carnival on Wheels'

Cornell Park rolled up a total of 70½ points yesterday afternoon to take first place in the "On Wheels" carnival held on Elmendorf street between Smith and Bruyn avenues. There were several hundred children and spectators present representing the eight city parks who competed for honors. In the upper left are the first three place winners in the pushmobile race. Seated in the streamlined vehicles left to right are: Bud Leininger of Forsyth Park, who won first place; Ernest Bailey of Block and Bob Brown of Cornell, who tied for second. Their respective motor powers stand behind and are, left to right: "Rocky" Maxson, Ray Wolff and Bill Smith. In the upper right is the start of the chariot race which was won by Block Park with Ernest Bailey as driver. In the lower left are the decorated doll carriages as their mistresses paraded them past the many spectators who jammed the sidewalks to witness the afternoon's festivities. In the center is Bob Dresler of Barmann Park as he crossed the finish line to take first place in the slow bicycle race. The bottom right gives a back view of several home made scooters and their creators as they whizz down the track to the finish line. In several of the faster events the contestants attained such speed that they were unable to stop past the finish line and they would finally come to rest on the first seats of the bleachers in the background.

French High Court To Try Men Who Led Nation to War

Vichy, France, Aug. 2 (P)—Military leaders, former government members and others charged with leading France to war with Germany and with responsibility for her disastrous defeat, will go on trial before the French Supreme Court at Riom, August 8.

The names of those to face charges were not disclosed officially.

Former Premier Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud, former French Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin and George Mandel, minister of colonies, frequently have been attacked in the French press in connection with forthcoming trials.

The defendants are to be accused not only of responsibility for putting France in the war and poor military leadership thereafter, but of responsibility for the country's state of unpreparedness.

In certain cases it is expected that even charges of plotting against the state will be brought.

The setting of the date for the start of the trials was announced by French Minister of Justice Raphael Alibert.

Former Premier Edouard Daladier and three men who were in his cabinet are among those to be tried—on charges of responsibility for the French defeat.

Britain Puzzled

London, Aug. 2.—Britain, puzzled by a "Red" leaflet raid by German bombers during the night, wondered today whether Hitler now had decided upon a delayed war of attrition with an air blockade or still was planning the blitzkrieg land invasion so often threatened.

British leaders declared the nation ready for either eventuality. German airplanes, staging the first leaflet raid on England since the outbreak of war, showered a south coast port and a village in the southwest area with four-page tabloid newspaper style pamphlets containing extracts of Hitler's Reichstag speech July 19. In Wales the dropped pamphlets whitened some fields "like snow."

Hitler, in his speech, offered Britain a "last chance" to seek peace on German terms or have her empire destroyed.

British spokesmen promptly and firmly rejected the appeal. Two weeks of daily air raids—but nothing more—have passed.

At the time Hitler's speech was made the British press and radio both carried it fully. Several newspapers carried the text. The radio carried the official English translation from Berlin.

Despite this, the Nazi radio propagandist "Lord Haw Haw" stated in his broadcast to the British on the day of the speech that it had been "denied publication" in Britain.

The British Broadcasting Corporation in announcing the leaflet raids today commented "it is hard to understand" the German claim the speech was not published in this country.

The leaflets measured 12 by 8 inches and bore the caption "A last appeal to reason by Adolf Hitler." They suggested pointedly that the British public might not have had an opportunity to read Hitler's words.

British air raid wardens and policemen hustled out and collected the pamphlets even as they fluttered to the grounds, using flashlights and torches.

Morning newspapers made over their late editions to tell about the leaflet raids.

The press has noted a switch in the German radio propaganda tactics directed at the British. Recently German radio speakers, instead of threatening invasion, jeering at the British home guards and referring to the fate of shattered Warsaw and Rotterdam, have been emphasizing the German blockade and the damage the German air force can inflict on Britain's sea-borne commerce.

N. Y. Troop Travel Boon to Rail Men

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 2 (P)—Movement of National Guardsmen and regular army troops to northern New York for the first army's three-week maneuvers is a boon to rail workers.

The New York Central has added 500 extra employees to handle the transport. Many who had been furloughed for years were recalled and some transferred from elsewhere to the St. Lawrence division.

Line officials expect to operate 90 trains hauling 900 coaches, 300 baggage, 200 freight and 150 stock cars.

Heaviest movement of contingents from 12 northeastern states and the District of Columbia will be Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Hundreds will travel by motor to the Plattsburg-Ogdensburg-Watkins area.

Rabin's Store Now Making Changes for Fall Season

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 2 (P)—Diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest today said the Rumanian Crown Council had decided to open negotiations next week with Hungary and Bulgaria for settlement of their territorial claims on Rumania.

These reports said the Crown Council, in a meeting last night with King Carol, had agreed that Rumania should take the initiative in opening the territorial discussions, as ordered by Adolf Hitler in his conference at Berchtesgaden last Friday with Premier Ion Gurgutu and Foreign Minister Mihail Manoilescu of Rumania.

New York, Aug. 2 (P)—The possible loss of his automobile registration and driver's license and a request to leave his suburban home faced Dr. Gerhardt Alois Westrick, special agent for the German government, today.

The license and registration were suspended yesterday by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Carroll Mealey pending an investigation of allegedly false information supplied by Dr. Westrick in his applications. Dr. Westrick is accredited as commercial counselor to the German embassy.

Mealey said he acted on reports that Dr. Westrick failed to notify the state bureau of a change in residence and answered "no" to a question whether he had any physical disability.

Dr. Westrick, Mealey said he had been informed, has an artificial leg.

He must surrender the auto plates and license within five days pending a hearing.

Meanwhile, Harold A. Callan, attorney and owner of the house rented by Dr. Westrick in suburban Scarsdale, said "I shall take possession of my home as soon as I can persuade Dr. Westrick to let me reoccupy it."

Curious persons streamed past the house today after published reports that men prominent in American business were frequent visitors there.

"Whatever visits have been made to this house have been purely social," Mrs. Westrick, attractive wife of the Nazi official, said. "We have many callers. They are friends of long standing."

Tides Favoring Hitler Blitzkrieg Happen Next Week

Best Time for Drive on England Indicated by Almanac: May Wait 'Till Spring

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—The almanacs say that if Adolf Hitler is going to start his blitzkrieg on England this month the best times for it will be next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings.

If the fuhrer passes up those days, the next best come in September, from the second to the seventh. Third choice would be October 1-6, then October 30-November 4.

All of those are periods when the tides will be the highest.

The British are inclined to believe that, if the Germans don't make the stab by mid-September, no invasion will be attempted until next spring. Ordinary prudence on the part of the Nazi general staff, these observers say, will demand that at least six weeks be allowed for the campaign.

They point out Hitler can't count on good weather for operations of his air force once the equinoctial storms begin in mid-September. From then on, Britain is cloaked in fogs and mists so thick even the natives can't find their way around—and the Germans would be bound to get lost.

Neutral military men, picturing the Nazi attack as they might run it, say it should have these conditions:

1.—A calm sea—to keep the German soldiers from getting seasick on the way across the North Sea and English Channel.

2.—High tide—essential in order that the flat-bottomed barges of the first landing force can be driven high enough on the beaches for tanks to be run off onto the sand in water not too deep to put them out of commission.

3.—Fog in the English channel—to screen the expedition on its way over. Sometimes the center of the channel is foggy when it is clear on both sides.

These experts say preliminary air bombardment and landings on the beaches all would be preparatory to the first major objective in any campaign to invade this country—seizure of a port. Once a port had been obtained, they explain, the Germans could try to supply the landing force by deep-water freighters conveyed by airplane and submarine and possibly run in through lanes of mines as a further safeguard.

However, the British would not be just sitting around while all this was going on.

They point out Hitler's expedition would be vulnerable as soon as it got into its ships and would remain that way on the trip across and during the attempted landing.

They said they were confident any Nazi landing force would be "eliminated" in short order.

Communique From Italian Command

Rome, Aug. 2 (AP)—Text of today's Italian high command communique:

An enemy naval squadron coming from Gibraltar and composed of two battleships, two aircraft carriers and small vessels was reached by our air formations south of the Island of Formentera in the Balearics and subjected to violent bombardment despite intense anti-aircraft fire.

Several ships are known to have been hit by large caliber bombs, including a battleship with fires visible on board. One of our planes failed to return.

Last night the destroyer Ugolino Vivaldi sank by ramming and then with a torpedo in the center of the Ionian sea the 1,500-ton English submarine Oswald, with 120-millimeter gun and eight torpedo tubes.

Of the 55 men in the crew the Vivaldi recovered and took prisoner 52, including the commander, Capt. David Frazer. All were uninjured.

In East Africa our aviation bombed El Butnana (Anglo-Egyptian Sudan) and in the Kassala (Sudan) zone bombed a contingent of armored cars, destroying eight and machine-gunning their crews in flight.

Our troops occupied Dabel, 45 kilometers (28 miles) south of Moyale (Kenya Colony), repulsing a violent enemy counter-attack and inflicting heavy losses.

Enemy aviation bombed Diredda (Ethiopia) without result. Other bombardments of Diavella, Asmara (Eritrea) and Massaua (Eritrea) caused light damage to an enemy hangar. One Italian and one native were killed and several injured.

Two enemy planes were shot down by our fighters.

Veterans' Group Plans to Attend Ft. Dix Reunion

John A. Scully, of 34 Derrenbacher street, who served in the 310th Infantry, will head a large number of local veterans who plan to attend the three-day reunion of the 78th (Lightning) Division to be held at Fort Dix from August 16 to 18, it was announced today.

The Secretary of the Navy, Col. Frank M. Knox, has donated a silver trophy to his A.E.F. organization, the 78th Division. This trophy to be known as "The Frank Knox National Defense Rifle Trophy" will be awarded to the 78th Regimental team scoring the highest average score on the rifle range at Fort Dix, during the reunion.

Veterans of 1917-1918, who have not shot a rifle since war days, will have a chance for some practice and should be encouraged to their utmost by the hope of winning the trophy.

Col. Knox, who was a major in the 303rd Ammunition Train of the 78th, was later promoted to colonel of an artillery regiment. He also served in Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders during the Spanish American War.

The 78th Division Veterans are urged to mail their reservations at once for the reunion to the general secretary, Raymond Taylor, Box 482, Closter, N. J.

The word "Minnesota" comes from two Sioux Indian words meaning "sky-colored water."

As a defense measure, proof of citizenship will be required of the some 100,000 radio operators licensed by the Federal Communications Commission. The requirements will apply to amateurs as well as commercial operators.

The air corps expansion program has put a stop to the participation of army aircraft in the opening of new commercial airports and such occasions. The program will take precedence over all other demands.

To better living

THE two women were chatting as they left the store. Said the neat little mother in the striped cotton dress, "That's the way I feel about it. I'd always rather get something good."

"Oh, me, too," her companion replied. "It's like I've always said — if I had to choose I'd rather have a little piece of good meat than a big piece of poor meat."

Our hats off to them
—typical Herzog customers!

They are sold on quality. They know it pays to get something good. But that doesn't mean they want to pay high prices. Not for a minute!

Do you know what that first woman bought? She had just purchased a Federal 7-quart Cold-Pack Canner.

And do you know what she paid for it?

She paid only 98 cents! (Try to better that price anywhere!)

We're not exactly patting ourselves on the back for that combination of quality and low price. With mass production on today's scale, it is reasonable to offer good things at low prices, in the interest of "better living."

Speaking of better living, we point with pride to our stainless steel section in the Basement—several shelves of Vollrath Enduro Stainless Steel, no less.

Stainless steel was a long time coming. In fact it was before the turn of the century that an Englishman invented it. There were many difficulties to be overcome before it went on the market commercially. But it was inevitable! Just as hospitals and hotels first recognized the ideal qualities of stainless steel, home managers generally are eager now to equip their kitchens.

Some women begin to replace modestly, selecting as they need them such stainless steel articles as frying pans, pie plates, covered sauce pots and pans, or such kitchen tools as solid or slotted spoons, solid or slotted cake turners, or spatulas. (Only 39 cents each! With red or black Catalin handles.) Or soup ladles, or skimmers, or forks, at 49 cents each; potato mashers at 75 cents, etc.

Such things as the really beautiful stainless steel Dixie Chicken Fryer, percolators, double boilers and tea kettles sell on sight for wedding and anniversary gifts.

Not long ago a bright-eyed woman came in and confessed that finally she had the courage of her convictions. Not content to acquire her stainless steel gradually, she "up and did it"—actually threw all her worn, old-fashioned kitchen utensils into the ash can, and breathlessly hastened to our Basement to "start all over again," as she said, with Vollrath Enduro Stainless Steel.

We immediately nominated her "Best Customer of the Week."

Smart little woman, too!

Those stainless steel utensils are destined to bring her years of cooking pleasure, convenience and economy. She loves the softly gleaming beauty of their silvery lustre. As she says, they will harmonize with any color scheme she ever uses in her kitchen. Like fine silver, the beauty is enhanced by use, and it's permanent because it is solid stainless steel—all the way through. There's no plating to wear off. The steel will not rust or tarnish. It resists denting and stands up even under abnormally severe service.

It cannot affect the taste, color or composition of food. Nor will food affect it. Even citrus fruits, rhubarb, berries, eggs, dairy products and alcohol will not stain or corrode it.

We told her to squeeze some lemon juice in one of the sauce pots and let it remain overnight—and next morning see how easily it would wash off without leaving the slightest trace.

Stainless steel saves time in the kitchen because it is so easy to clean. Food does not adhere to its hard, smooth surface. It saves money because it saves fire—because it is so safe and holds heat longer! In fact, one is advised to use low heat only for best results.

Another virtue is the straight side design. Science shows this to be the most efficient type of utensil because it presents the greatest bottom surface to the heat.

And you don't have to worry about the handles and knobs. They are made of char-proof Bakelite or Thermoplas and are not affected by oven temperatures. Handles and knobs are attached so that no unsightly rivets appear on the inside.

Now how about getting one of those handsome stainless steel Dixie Chicken Fryers tomorrow, and trying this for Sunday's dinner:

CHICKEN FRICASSEE
Sear a slice of bacon in the Dixie Chicken Fryer. Add chicken and 1½ c. of water, cook slowly until tender. Add ¼ c. of chopped parsley, 1 medium sliced onion, chopped, and ½ c. of diced celery. Cover and cook for a few minutes longer. Then add 1 c. milk, the beaten yolks of two eggs, 1 T. flour and 1 T. butter, mixed, and season to taste. Arrange the chicken on a platter and pour the gravy over it. Mushrooms can be added if desired.

Nearly 150 members and guests witnessed or participated in the golf carnival last evening at Wiltwyck Golf Club.

The main event of the evening was the two ball mixed foursome. Low gross honors were divided between Mrs. Maurice Davenport and Edwin Tongue and Mrs. Edw. Curran and Stanley Winne. Second place resulted in a tie between the teams of Robert Cullum and Mrs. Ernest LeFevre and Albert and Rosemary Tremper.

Low net award was taken by Mrs. Maurice Davenport and Edwin Tongue with the remarkably low score of 29. Second place resulted in a tie between Robert C. Clements and Mrs. Stanley Hankinson and Robert Cullum and Mrs. Ernest LeFevre.

Following the tournament basket suppers were enjoyed on the porch. When it became sufficiently dark the flood lights were turned on and the program continued.

A long driving contest for men was won by R. C. Clements, who drove 259 yards and 1 foot. Maurice Davenport finished second, failing by one yard to equal this long drive.

The driving contest for women was won by Miss Rosemary Tremper, with Mrs. Robert Cullum taking second.

"The blasting from a sand trap" for men contest was won by John St. Clair, who narrowly nosed out Herbert E. Thomas. The pitching for accuracy contest was won by R. C. Clements, with Edw. Curran finishing second. In the same event for the women Mrs. Robert Cullum was the winner with Mrs. Joseph Koenig placing second.

The putting contest was won by Miss Rosemary Tremper. Mrs. Robert Cullum was second. The club throwing contest was taken by R. C. Clements, closely followed by George Chilson, Stanley Winne and John St. Clair in the order named.

The evening was pronounced a great success, resulting in many requests for another evening of golf in the near future.

CLERGYMAN AND WIFE NOT EXPECTED TO SEND PRESENT WHEN WEDDING TAKES PLACE IN HIS CHURCH

First It Would Be Financially Impossible, Says Emily Post, and Further, No Exceptions Can Be Made

A letter from a clergyman says in part: "I can hardly believe that the congregation or an impoverished minister can expect that he and his wife send a present every time a wedding takes place in his church. I am such a minister, and my wife is worried every time I officiate at a wedding about not doing the right thing. She and I both will be more comfortable if you will tell us what to do."

In answer to this, let me say very firmly that in my opinion it would be financially impossible that a clergyman and his wife send a present to the daughter of the Joneses, let us say, in whose house he is constantly made welcome and where he and his wife are both very much at home. And of course it would not do to send a present to Alice Jones, and then send none to Margaret Greene at whose wedding he is also going to officiate. The rule, therefore, is that only to members of his own family, or to friends outside of his own parish, may he properly send a wedding present.

Walk in Or Ring at a Tourist House?

Dear Mrs. Post: If the door is ajar or unlocked, may an inquiring traveler walk in at a house that advertises rooms for tourists? Answer: After you have taken a room in the house, you of course go in and out without ringing the bell, provided the door is kept unlocked. But before this, you must ring the bell and wait for some one to answer the door. Aside from this being the polite way to behave, you would probably find yourself in an empty hall with no

A Present That Is a Mystery

Dear Mrs. Post: I sent a present several weeks ago to a friend in whose house I often stay. And I forgot to leave a card at the store. Of course I haven't had any message from the friend, and she probably doesn't realize that she could find out who sent it by telephoning the store. I feel rather embarrassed to let her know now that I sent it, because it might suggest that I thought she should have known enough to thank me. Is there some 'round about way I could do it without having to ask direct?

Answer: You can, and should, clear up the mystery at once, since your friend is undoubtedly embarrassed because unable to thank the giver. She may have thought of the store, but even this may be impossible if you paid cash and were unknown to the salesclerk. Also it may be that the wrapping was carried away before she noticed that no card was enclosed. If I were you, I'd certainly write her about it. In fact, I can't imagine why you don't.

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad, however, to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "— and Family." Roosevelt Favors Training Bill the front because he was more valuable at his trade.

Mr. Roosevelt said at the outset, after the reporter sounded him out on reports that he was cool to conscription, that he was thinking the other day that he was being damned if he did and damned if he didn't. He said he was bound to be criticized whatever he did and if he sent up a ready-made bill for Congress to pass the newspaper men would say the President was ordering Congress to do something.

Old Man Dictator, he said, would be the definition in some circles. Recalling the depression crisis of 1933, he said he did send to Congress ready-made bills which were put through without hearings, but this was only to save time in the emergency. He got terribly pained for this, he added. Later, in 1934, the practice was discarded.

Then, he continued, when congressional committees asked him to submit tentative drafts of bills, the President was ordering Congress to do something.

There never had been any "must" legislation, he said. Further explaining why he had not spoken before today on conscription, the chief executive said one editorial today urged congress to do something quickly, while another asked, why the rush?

Voluntary Enlistment
Proposals to delay congressional action on conscription pending a drive for voluntary one-year enlistments in the army gained new adherents in the senate today.

With the military committee considering an amendment to limit to 1,000,000 the number of men who might be drafted under the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service bill, some members said it was unlikely that any agreement could be reached until late next week.

In the meantime, several senators were preparing one-year enlistment amendments to existing legislation so as to empower the President, if he saw fit, to call the national guard and reserve officers into active training.

There were indications that the idea would have strong support from both Democrats and Republicans who have opposed the Burke-Wadsworth measure or who have been reluctant to approve a conscription plan calling for registration of about 12,000,000 men from 21 to 30, inclusive.

Senator Ellender (D-La.) proposed that the Burke-Wadsworth bill be amended to provide for a 30-day period for receiving voluntary enlistments before conscription would begin.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) said he planned to offer an amendment to eliminate peacetime conscription, retaining the provisions calling for registration in the 21-30 age bracket, but substituting a system of voluntary enlistment for the subsequent draft.

Arguing that conscription was necessary, Senator Lee (D-Okl.) said he thought an amendment to limit the number of draftees to 500,000 in October and 500,000 next spring would "allay public fears that we are going to call out everyone between the ages of 21 and 31."

Lee proposed this amendment, and it was seconded by Senator Bridges (R-N. H.). On the other hand, Senator Burke (D-Neb.), a co-author of the bill, said he thought it would be a "mistake to say that is the end of it." He contended that discretionary authority should be given the President to increase the number of draftees if that became necessary.

Bitten by Dog

John Gudiak of 381 Abel street reported to the police department Thursday evening that he had been bitten by a dog owned by Henry Wenzel of 153 Wilbur avenue. He told the police he had had the bite treated at the Kingston Hospital.

Private Jobs

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Federal Security Administration today reported that public employment officers found jobs in private industry for 1,500,000 persons during the first six months of 1940.

Stocks Quiet as Volume Is Down

Industrials Lost, Rails and Utilities Gained

Stocks were quiet Thursday with a 330,000 share volume. Industrials lost slightly and rails and utilities gained. Commodities opened at the day's high and closed at the low. Government bonds were firm in quiet dealings and corporates were quiet and little changed. The nation's gigantic preparedness efforts are expected shortly to accelerate industrial activities although for the present there has been increased activity.

Four of the large companies are planning expansion of their facilities. Shell Oil will start a plant to make a basic TNT ingredient at Houston, Texas. Union Carbide & Carbon unit of Bakelite Corp., is to start construction of a new plant at Bound Brook, N. J. to make urea molding materials. Monsanto Chemical has bought 176 acres near Detroit as a plant site and Reynolds Metals, with a $15,800,000 loan authorized by RFC, is contemplating plant facilities in the Tennessee Valley for manufacture of aluminum.

Buick Motor Division of General Motors is contemplating one of the largest plant expansion and retooling programs of its history in preparation for 1941 models to be offered early this fall. Buick 1940 model run, just completed, produced and sold 283,000 cars above its previous model year peak in 1937 and 37% above its 1939 model year total.

Among companies making earnings reports are: Paramount Pictures for June quarter 48 cents, vs. 21 cents for 1939 like quarter on common. U. S. Rubber for six months ending June 30, reports 94 cents common against $1.18 for 1939 period. Seaboard Oil reports 21 cents for June 30 quarter, vs. 31 cents 1939 share for 1939 quarter. Union Bak & Paper reports 69 cents on common for June quarter, vs. 6 cents in 1939 like quarter.

In anticipation of increased needs under the national defense program and to the possibility of delay in getting their requirements because of shortage of materials, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad is planning to build in its own shops 1,000 steel steamships, wood lined 50-ton box cars at a cost upwards of $2,500,000. Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway may shortly seek authority to purchase box cars and automobile cars at a cost of $2,700,000.

Private Jobs

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Federal Security Administration today reported that public employment officers found jobs in private industry for 1,500,000 persons during the first six months of 1940.

Matches 18 Cents

In the advertisement of George H. Dawkins in last night's Freeman the price of six boxes of matches was inadvertently given as 8 cents. The price should have been 18 cents.

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—The stock market today exhibited selective recovery symptoms, notably in steels and motors, but many leaders remained on the sick list.

Best gains running to a point or so for favorites were noted around midday. These were cut or cancelled near the final hour. Dealings were inconsequential throughout. Transfers were at the rate of approximately 300,000 shares.

Some short covering and a little speculative and investment demand was reported by brokers to have been based on the feeling the British had a good chance to repel a Nazi mass invasion, that business prospects were hopeful and that Congress might be more lenient on excess profits taxes than most people expected.

Bonds and commodities maintained a relatively steady tone. Stocks in front the greater part of the time included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, United Aircraft, Westinghouse, du Pont, Montgomery Ward, Chesapeake & Ohio and Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit.

Texas Corp. and American Smelting again were backward movers. Moderately lower inclinations were exhibited by curb issues such as American Cyanamid "B," Mead Johnson, Aluminum of America and Electric Bond & Share.

Fix Up Chairs For Fall With Trim Slip Covers

Simple to Fit Any Chair or Sofa

What a blessing slip covers are for worn, shabby chairs! Like new upholstery. And you can so easily and inexpensively make attractive year-round styles, fix up your own chairs for fall.

Smart now are covers of colorful cotton crash like the one we've shown—a rich beige with a green and rust all-over motif. Seams are bound in beige and the flounce is smartly pleated.

The secret of making a well-fitting cover is that you smooth the fabric over the old upholstery, pin where seams will be and cut, leaving 1 1/2-inch seam allowance. Work a section at a time—first inside back and seat, then arms, sides, back. The flounce you add last to finished cover.

To fit a barrel chair like the one pictured, smooth fabric down inside back, cut at bottom, and piece as the diagram shows or, if fabric is wide, make two long darts in place of seams. Then sew up seams and attach a 4-inch bias band along the bottom to tuck in.

In our 32-page booklet you find directions for making slip covers for all types of chairs and sofas, including barrel and channel-back styles. Explain every step: estimating material, cutting, fitting, finishing. Suggest fabrics, colors, trimmings.

Send 10 cents in coin for your copy of HOW TO MAKE SLIP COVERS to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Kovacs Uses All Tricks To Subdue Tennis Foe

Frankie's Outbursts Are Said to Have Helped Him Defeat Toley in Tournament

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP).—Tennis Doctor Frank Kovacs says that if you have trouble with your forehand, the best thing to do is bite your racket and that will teach the darned thing to behave.

If your backhand won't work right, toss your racket as far as you can and then stroll leisurely over to pick it up. Dr. Kovacs doesn't know why this cure works, but he is satisfied that it does.

The young player from Oakland, Calif., has tried all these stunts and a good many others during the course of this summer's tournament play. Perhaps he wouldn't prescribe them for anyone else, but in his case they seem to relieve the tension of a hard match or to do something which enables him to settle down and play his best.

For trouble with your footwork, stop the match, call for scissors and cut your slacks down to shorts; if you're already wearing shorts, take your socks off, bite the ball, punch a linesman in the nose, visit an adjoining court and watch the match there, do anything—but for Pete's sake be funny.

Kovacs couldn't try all these remedies for erratic play yesterday but his outbursts entertained the gallery more than once in the course of his tough match with George Toley of Los Angeles in the quarter final round of the Meadow Club invitation tournament. Six times in the second set Toley reached match point but Kovacs finally won 4-6, 14-12, 6-1. Perhaps it was Frank's antics that turned the trick, for Toley tightened up and lost his advantage on three occasions and Kovacs saved the other three by brilliant play that made up for previous poor showings.

He may have to invent some new remedies today when he faces national champion Bobby Riggs in the semi-final. For Bobby, cool and methodical, hammered out a 6-4, 8-6 victory over Hank Prusoff of Seattle, who had him at match point during last week's Seabright tournament. In the other half of the draw, Elwood Cooke, 6-4, 6-4 winner over young Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., takes on Don McNeill, who eliminated Frank Guernsey, 6-3, 6-2.

The semi-final brackets in the Maidstone Club tournament at East Hampton also were filled yesterday by two Santa Monica, Calif., players, Dorothy May Bundy and Gracy Wheeler. Miss Wheeler took off her shoes in the second set and this managed to defeat Margaret Osborne of Los Angeles, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. Miss Bundy took Helen Bernhard with her shoes on, 7-5, 6-3. Their respective opponents today are Sarah Palfrey and Pauline Betz.

Ace Golfers Are Leading in Open Mid-West Tourney

Ralph Williamson Made Course in 64; 21 Others Turned in Shattering Cards

Milwaukee, Aug. 2 (AP)—A field of 185 golfers, including most of the nation's crack amateur and professional shotmakers, teed off in the $5,000 Milwaukee Open tournament for a first round assault today on par, already tottering under the impact of a score of beatings administered in the preliminary best-ball event.

Ralph (Bud) Williamson, pro of Fort Wayne, Ind., carded a record 64, seven under regulation figures for the North Hills course, as a member of yesterday's winning pro-amateur best ball team.

Partner with Williamson, Harvey Reidemann, 21, of Watertown, Wis., turned in an individual 61 to pace a strong amateur contingent.

Twenty-one others also turned in par-shattering cards. Jimmy Milward, Madison, Wis., pro, had a 66, second-best individual card. Pros Tommy Armour, of the Chicago Medinah Club; Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill.; and Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., posted 67's.

Ed Oliver, Hornell, N. Y., pro and St. Paul Open titleholder, stroked out an even par 71, along with Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Calif., amateur; Willie Goggin, Californian who tied for second in the St. Paul meet; and Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill.

Sam Snead, Shawnee-on-Delaware pro, and Wilford Wehrle, Chicago amateur, blasted out 69's, one better than Dick Metz, Chicago Open winner.

Today's starting field also included the veteran Walter Hagen of Detroit, Ryder Cup team captain.

Local Sportsmen Go to Wingdale To Inspect Lights

Committee Men Hope to Get Information for Possible Lighting System in City

Three members of the Kingston Recreation's board of directors, Ed Coughlin, Addison Jones and Paul Zucca, along with City Engineer James G. Norton and Dick Dawe, of the Central Hudson, made a visit to Wingdale last night to inspect the lighting equipment at the ball park.

The visit was prompted by the increased interest of local baseball fans of night games who have been turning out at the stadium in greater numbers of the last few games. It is hoped that the city will soon have its own lighting equipment instead of hiring portable floodlights for baseball games at the stadium.

Although nothing definite has been announced by the men who went to Wingdale last night, it is expected that all of their information will be used later when the first attempt is made to have the city purchase a floodlight system. All this year the Recreation has been quite fortunate in procuring acceptable lights for the games. One or two nights the candlelights have been a little weak but on other occasions the lights were very acceptable.

The Kingston outfielders have remarked that the present system does not give ample light to see the high fly balls clearly enough. This has made picket line duty a little dangerous.

Umpire in Crowd, Comes Out Senator

Chicago, July 26.—From now on, Bill Klem, veteran umpire of the National League, has a new title, one which probably will remain with him for the remainder of his career. It is Senator Bill Klem, and already players and scouts are referring to him as "the Senator."

Bill was "elected" to the Senate at the Chicago convention last week, and one of his associate umpires, Lee Ballanfant, made the nominating speech as a result of some quick-thinking. And it wasn't made in the Convention Hall, but on the sidewalk in front of their hotel.

Klem, and the two umpires who were working the Cub-Bee series—Ballanfant and Bick Campbell—left their Chicago inn to go to the station and were unable to locate a taxi. Soon they were engulfed by the Chicago convention crowd, delegates and Chicago voters curious to see the national celebrities.

The three umpires were having no luck getting through the crowd, when the loud voice of Ballanfant boomed to Klem: "This way, Senator."

It worked like magic. The crowd divided, and three of Mayor Kelly's coppers, told to be especially courteous to Democratic dignitaries, appeared from nowhere. They served as left guard, center and right guard, opened a hole through the crowd, and led the way to a taxicab around the corner.

As the umpires pulled away, a copper touched his cap and remarked to Klem: "I trust everything was okay, Senator."

Memphis, Tenn.—Jack Marshall, 188, Texas, outpointed Neville "Tiger" Beech, 190, Picayune, Miss., (8).

Rees Will Face Either Eagles or Royal Giants

Newark or Brooklyn Club to Appear at Stadium, Friday, August 9; Local Team Set

Another top-notch, nationally-known colored baseball team will be the next opponents for Charlie Husta's Kingston Recreation at municipal stadium, Friday evening, August 9. Although neither the Baltimore Elite Giants or the Homestead Grays will be in town, a good attraction has been promised.

After Wednesday's game with the Black Yankees the local team was given a good recommendation by the New York club but arrangements failed to materialize due to the advanced schedule of both clubs.

With both of these fast clubs out of the question, the local officials have been dicker for the Newark Eagles and the Brooklyn Royal Giants, two fine teams of high grade calibre.

The Newark Eagles are currently running third in the Negro National League behind the pace-setting Baltimore Giants and the Homestead Grays. Cum Posey, ace negro sportswriter of the Pittsburgh Courier stated recently that the Eagles are "potentially the greatest hitting team in colored baseball."

Ace Eagle Shortstop
If the Newark club appears here next Friday night in the nocturnal clash Kingston fans will see an ace shortstop in action. Willie Wells. Fans and critics who have witnessed Wells in action, have put him on a par with Billy Jurgens, Arky Vaughan and Dick Bartell.

Another standout for Newark is Jimmy "Lefty" Hill, who formerly toiled on the mound for the Albany Black Sox, a team particularly well known in these parts. Hill is a specialist in the strike-out department. In his debut with the Eagles Jimmy faced the powerful Brooklyn Bushwicks and won 4 to 0, allowing four hits.

If it's impossible for the Eagles to keep the engagement in Kingston next Friday, the famous Brooklyn Royal Giants will probably be the attraction. The Giants play outside of the Negro National League.

One of the ace Brooklyn players is Dave "Showboat" Thomas, clever first sacker. "Fats" Jenkins, well known to local basketball fans, is another standout performer with the Brooklyn ball club.

Meanwhile, Manager Husta is sitting back waiting for the final announcement as to next week's tussle. His charges racked up their most impressive triumph Wednesday by humbling the famous Black Yankees, 6 to 4. After this victory, the Recreation is suitable to meet any of the top-flight independent clubs in the country.

HORTON SMITH'S

Groundwork for Good Golf

4. Study the Impact Position

Just as the pay-off on every hole is at the cup, the pay-off of every swing is that all-important impact position. That is where proper club face position produces direction and where clubhead speed spells distance. In other words, if you have swung properly, your body action has generated great momentum which has been climaxed by the hands increasing the clubhead speed as it swings into and through the ball. The lower body has set up a foundation on which the arms and hands can operate, the left arm has served as the guide or measurement into the ball with the proper grip permitting the hands and arms to unite placing the clubface at a right angle position to the intended line of direction. The action near impact is so rapid that it is difficult to see and appreciate but when studied by an expert it can be understood and properly analyzed. It is important to check this impact position to see if you are getting the proper firmness and the proper union of body, arms and hands as your clubhead meets the ball. There is yards difference between a sloppy contact and firm and secure union. Trace your swing and investigate this vital part of your swing.

Wolcott Gives Coach His No. 1 Prize

Houston, Tex., (AP)—His smile still damp with perspiration at Princeton, Freddy Wolcott of Rice Institute shoved a handsome gold watch at Emmett Brunson, Rice track coach, and mumbled:

"Here, this is yours."

The watch, with the engraving "220-yard low hurdles, 1940," represented Freddy's trophy for a performance that had broken the world records for the 200-meter and 220-yard low barriers at Princeton's track meet.

His breath almost taken away, Brunson stuck the watch out toward Wolcott, stammering:

"Hey, you must be crazy. Take this back. It's THE watch; the one you'll want to keep always."

The incident ended when Wolcott brushed aside Brunson's arm, saying:

"That's the one I want you to have."

That was the climax of the strong friendship that bloomed throughout Wolcott's competitive career. Brunson had developed, painstakingly all of the native ability Freddy possessed, finally exhibiting one of the outstanding track men of all time. The Rice towhee had hit his peak at Princeton, running the 220-yard low in 22.5, and the 200 meters in 22.3. The best Jesse Owens could do in each event was 22.6. Wolcott also broke the American 120-yard hurdles mark of 14 flat by a tenth of a second, the third time this year he had done it.

Hudson Softies Defeat Dairymen With Big Fifth

Softball Game in Hudson Draws 700 Spectators; Balfe and Toffel Hurl for Jones

With approximately 700 spectators in the stands the Hudson All Stars defeated Jones Dairy Wednesday in the annual all-star softball game in Hudson. The final count was 8 to 4. Both clubs picked up eight hits but Kingston came through with seven errors.

Kingston had a 2 to 1 lead going into the last of the fifth. Hudson then pounded away at Ed Balfe and his successor, Ben Toffel, for seven runs and the ball game.

The Dairymen bounced back for two runs in the seventh but they were far from being enough. Mariah, the Hudson shortstop, led the home team with three for four. Culver Ten Broeck picked up two hits for the Dairymen.

Merrill Peck Is Second to Break 50 Skeet Targets

Turns in First Perfect Double Round Since Bob Martin Broke 50 Straight in '37

In a regular weekly skeet shoot at the Ulster County Gun Club Thursday afternoon, Merrill Peck of Kingston broke 50 straight targets, to be the second club member to perform that feat in the history of skeet at the Plank Road Range.

In 1937 Bob Martin marked up 50 straight and since that time there have been numerous 48's and 49's out of 50 and Peck's run is the first perfect double round in three years. A. G. Benoit scored 44 out of 50 to place second to Peck for the afternoon.

The local range will be closed next week when many of the skeeters will attend the National Championships at Syracuse.

The scores:
M. M. Peck 25+25=50
A. G. Benoit 23+21=44
J. Hyatt 18+21=39
R. Coles 18+19=37
H. Knauas 15+17=32
H. Van Winkle 17

Dutchmen Lose

Behind the effective hurling of Bill Burns, the Bruins defeated the First Dutch softies this week, by the score of 8 to 3. Allan Vogt, newly acquired first sacker for the Cubs, led the assault with a single, two doubles and a homer. Dick McConnell opposed Burns and despite the setback, pitched good ball.

Hits for Cycle

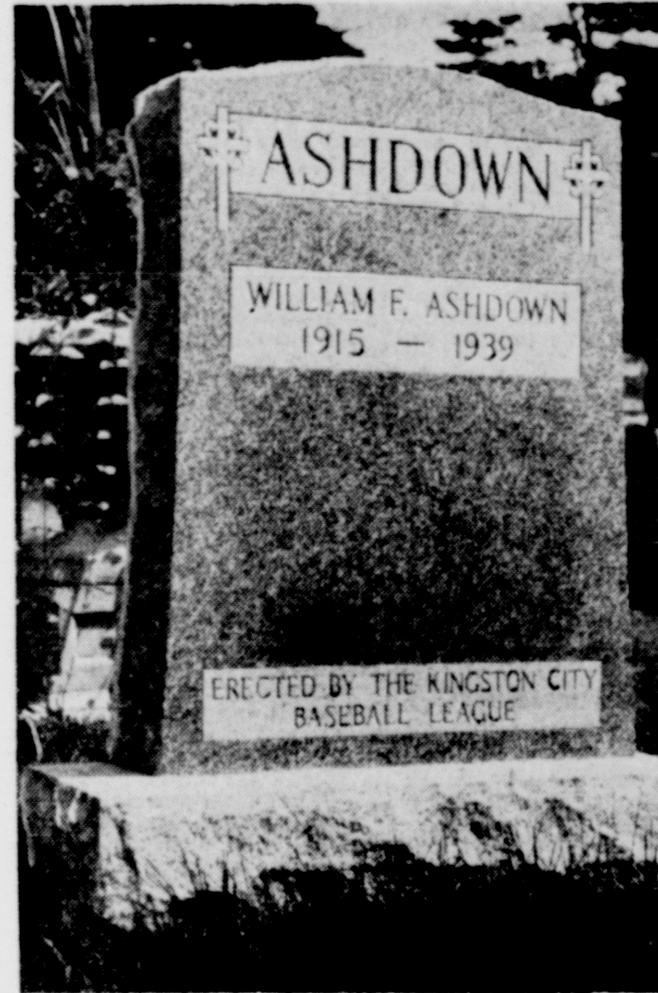

A few weeks ago Rosar became the first Yankee ever to hit for the cycle at the stadium. The former Newark Bear backstop slashed out a homer, triple, double and single. He also picked up a walk. In this game he batted in four runs and the day before he banged across the same number.

Although he doesn't want to give up on Bill Dickey, McCarthy has been using the 26-year-old Rosar more and more, especially against portersiders. In his first 29 games Rosar was batting at a .325 clip. Meanwhile, Dickey, always a dangerous batter, was hitting .204. Right now Bill is hitting .230, a new low for the Yankee star.

FLYNN GETS FARLEY'S JOB

Beneath a portrait of President Roosevelt at the White House in Washington, James A. Farley smiles broadly as he congratulates laughing Edward J. In accepting the appointment Flynn asserted that "there can be only a repetition in 1940 of the election four years ago."

Five Are Injured In Auto Collision On Accord Road

Davenport Truck and Schimmelman Car Are Involved; Riders Cut

Five people were injured last evening about 10:15 o'clock on route 209 between Accord and Kerhonkson when a 1936 Plymouth car owned and operated by Sam Schimmelman of Kerhonkson and a truck owned by Edward Davenport of Accord and driven by Samuel DeGraff, 28, of 31 Third avenue, Kingston, sideswiped.

The five injured were in the Plymouth car and it was reported their injuries were mostly cuts. None were considered serious and they were treated by a physician on duty at Shaft No. 2 of the New York Water Supply after they had failed to locate a doctor in Kerhonkson.

Deputy Sheriffs Brown and McCullough were summoned to the scene along with State Trooper William Reynolds. At the time the officers arrived the occupants of the car had left except Warren Perry of Kerhonkson. He was unable to supply the names of all of the occupants but identified Sally Yomtov and James Brush. He was unable to supply the driver's name or that of a second girl known only as Lillian. Later the officers ascertained the name of the owner of the car.

Car on Fire

The driver of the truck told the officers the accident happened when he dimmed his lights in passing the Plymouth and said the driver of the other car had attempted to dim his lights but they

City Pools Safe, Sanford Declares

Wading for Children Has No Danger Locally

"Wading pools in the city's parks are safe to use," according to a statement issued today by Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer of Kingston. Dr. Sanford in his statement said that parents occasionally raise the question as to whether skin diseases such as impetigo might be caused by waters in the pools.

"Impetigo is a skin disease," said Dr. Sanford, "which is spread by close contact with a child or person affected with it. A child affected with this disease must be kept not only out of the wading pools but away from all other children. Parents must cooperate in this."

"The water used in the pools is city water which is chlorinated before it enters the city's mains. The pools are drained and scrubbed every other day and refilled with fresh water which is further chlorinated during the day when the pools are in use."

"The water in the pools is tested twice a week by Sanitary Inspector Charles W. Shultis to ascertain the chlorine content in the water and therefore the possibility of any danger of disease
